Miss Burton of Kentucky gave a splen did address on "The Beginners." arate room should be provided for these little tots, and there the teacher helps to develope each little one spiritually, men tally and physically. The lesson should be adapted to the child and not the child to the lesson. In all lessons the truth should be sought. The Bible story must inspire his interest, and the child's interests cirde around the child's life. The lesson narrative must be complete; each lesse truth launched and a repetition of this truth emphasized. Leave no doubts with the child. Teach the child of God's love and not of his vengrance, and all these points are again gained through couse-

Mrs. Hamill, a grand primary worker, gave several fine take on children. She, with all the other bit inational workers, advocates the organized pomary. That consists of several classes and compe tent tetchers, a set program, pienty of good assistants and necessary equipments The organized primary cousiets of the cradle roll, ages from infants to three years; the beginners three years to six. and the primary proper six to ten. Havof cight to ten pupils each and a good teacher to take charge of each class. In this way the teachers may become bet ter acquainted with their pupils and the result will be better.

Now these are only a few ideas given us, and soon I hope a glimpse into our primary will reveal to you some of the good brought back to your school from
